EurBee10

10th CONGRESS OF APIDOLOGY

16.-19.09.2024 Tallinn, ESTONIA

SPONSORSHIP & EXHIBITION OPPORTUNITIES

Welcome to the EurBee 10 Congress!

It is our sincere pleasure to invite you to attend the 10th Congress of Apidology (EurBee), which will be held on 16-19th of September 2024 in Tallinn, Estonia. The Congress is organized by the Estonian University of Life Sciences.

EurBee is the event, where old and new friends get together to exchange the knowledge of novel scientific findings, associated with honeybees and other pollinators. For young researchers it is a great opportunity to meet the leading scientists on their field. Establishing new connections and networking is extremely important for sustainable bee research.

The City of Tallinn is the capital of Estonia. Tallinn's Hanseatic old town and nowadays modern architecture is a great mixture for every taste. Tallinn airport has good flight connections with different European airports making the travelling for EurBee guests especially comfortable. Due to good public transport the city centre is never more than 15-minutes drive away from airport, ferry, coach- or train station. Looking further, Estonian nature with its forests, bogs and swamps is unique in the world — all the EurBee guests will have the opportunity to experience its magic!

Experience magic — experience Estonia!

Sincerely Yours,

Risto Raimets
President of EurBee 10

GENERAL INFORMATION

DATE
16-19 September, 2024

ABOUT THE AUDIENCE
The congress is expected to bring together over 300 research scientists from different areas of apidology, academics, policy-makers, environmental organisations and producers.

As one of the major European apidology events, the congress welcomes attendees from all over the world. Traditionally, attendees have come from more than 50 countries.

In the already 10th EurBee congress, companies held in high regard in the fields of laboratory and research equipment and agricultural producers related to pollination as well as products containing honey or its side-products have sponsored the congress. The exhibition will be open at the venue throughout the congress.

THE VENUE
The venue Creative Hub is a landmark in the centre of Tallinn, on the edge of the Old Town. The exhibition of the sponsoring companies will be held in the foyer area next to the registration/info desk and in front of session halls. Coffee breaks will be served in that area as well.
